

NCDA Monthly Advocacy Report March 2022

Last Updated: April 05, 2022

On The Hill

March kicked off with President Biden's first State of the Union address. During his speech, he discussed the crisis in Ukraine and outlined four major bipartisan priorities for his Administration. These were largely healthcare focused, and included mental health, addressing the opioid epidemic, supporting veterans healthcare, and ending cancer.

The FY22 Appropriations bill finally past mid-way through this month, funding the government through September 30th of this year. As such, Congress has turned their attention to FY23. The President's budget came out on March 28th, and the Congressional process is expedited a bit, with some requests due within the next week. We anticipate committee negotiations to continue through the spring.

The other major priority in Congress this month has been the confirmation of Supreme Court Nominee Ketanji Brown Jackson. After a few weeks of meetings with Congressmembers and Judiciary Committee hearings, Judge Jackson is expected to be confirmed in early April.

Bipartisan Innovation Act

Majority Leader Schumer invoked cloture on the America COMPETES Act this month; the Senate version of the bill (with text that was a direct substitute of their earlier US Innovation and Competition Act) was passed on March 28th. This procedural move now allows the America COMPETES Act to go to a formal conference committee process where the House and Senate will reconcile their differences. Reports from the Hill indicate that final text won't likely be released until summer. We are awaiting details on the conference committee before taking official steps to weigh in, but have a draft letter to send on NCDA's behalf once this is finalized.

President's Budget

The White House delivered President Biden's budget proposal to Capitol Hill on March 28. The President's proposal for the Department of Labor includes a proposed increase of more than $100 million to expand Registered Apprenticeship opportunities and a proposed increase of more than $200 million in funding for the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act and Employment Service State Grants, all with the goal of increasing and improving the employee talent pool.

WIOA Reauthorization

On the last day of March, House Education and Labor Committee Democrats introduced the WIOA Reauthorization Act of 2022. This bill is not bipartisan. It includes additional support for industry-sector partnerships and community college partnerships, among other priorities. In an abnormally fast turnaround, it will receive a markup in the House Education and Labor Committee in early April and could reach the floor by summer. However, we have also learned that Senate HELP Committee leadership (who would need bipartisan consensus to move forward) have been unable to reach an agreement on WIOA, so a path forward to full reauthorization is unclear at this time.

Our team has engaged with several offices on Education and Labor on this, including Rep. GT Thompson, who will be introducing an amendment pushing for Title II funds to be used for certain recruitment outreach and social media initiatives and for additional support for career counseling. In addition to speaking with committee staff, we have also put a request out to Rep. Mark DeSaulnier, who has been supportive of our efforts in the past, to discuss. We will continue to keep NCDA updated as things progress on this front.

Member Engagement

Our team is finalizing travel details for the upcoming NCDA conference, and will be recording a virtual session in April alongside Public Policy Committee members. We continue to report out to committee members on a weekly basis about what is happening on the Hill in general and as it relates to NCDA.
